Resident Physician of the Month July 2018

Dr. Danielle Dumestre
Plastic Surgery
University of Calgary

I'm from Calgary, and have done all my training at U of C with the exception of a one year exchange in undergrad where I went to Madrid! I love any and all activities, particularly hot yoga and biking. I'm on my way to Dallas for a one-year microsurgery fellowship and am super excited to soak in the warm weather and eat (all the seafood).

A colleague had this to say about Dr. Danielle Dumestre:

"Danielle has always been one of my favourite senior residents to work with. Her approach to medicine and life in general is one that I aspire to adopt in my residency. It is filled with optimism and positivity and it is hard not to have fun and enjoy the day when you are working with her. Her kind and sweet demeanour is evident in the way she is with her family and friends and it overflows to her colleagues, patients and allied health professionals. She has also published several papers while in residency and has researched topics in the realm of enhanced recovery after surgery as well as confidential patient photography. She loves being outside and being active and she has a great love of music – ultimately she ended up marrying one of Calgary's hidden treasures in the hip-hop world. Danielle is very much going to be missed, whether in the operating room, the wards, in research day, in conferences or being part of several resident activities that she often helps being the lead of. We wish her all the luck as she pursues a fellowship in microsurgery in Texas!"

Congratulations Dr. Danielle Dumestre!
