

PARA EXECUTIVE BOARD ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The PARA Executive Board is the Board of Directors of PARA, which is composed of the Officers and Directors of the Association. The Officers of PARA are the President and Past President. The Directors are all other members of the Executive Board.

First and foremost, you are a champion for PARA. Support PARA events and initiatives. Be an ambassador for all resident physicians in Alberta. Listen to your colleagues' concerns – don't give advice unless such advice is approved by PARA's CEO and the PARA Executive Board.

After you are elected, before you take office (February-June)

1. Read PARA's Code of Conduct, Mission, Vision, Strategic Direction and the PARA Bylaws.
2. Provide PARA with your contact information (current mailing address and preferred email).
3. Prior to taking office, you will be invited to attend the last Assembly Meeting of the academic year (normally at the beginning of May) and you must attend the first Assembly Meeting in August.
4. You are expected to attend the Executive Retreat at the end of May (mandatory). At the retreat you will meet with the current Executive Board member, who will assist with the transition into your role. It is imperative that you understand what is expected from you.

After you take office (July onward)

1. It is expected that you will attend every Assembly Meeting.
2. It is expected that you will attend two Executive Board in-person meetings. These are one day meetings.
 - Fall (in-person - late September/early October) – focus is on goal setting for the year
 - Winter (virtual - late January) – focus is on mid-year review and strategic planning for rest of year
3. You will be invited to attend related External Committee meetings. A written report from the External meetings you attend is expected from you for the Assembly Meeting package. You will receive from PARA staff the report template and a copy of the last report from that committee meeting.
5. Communication in a timely fashion with PARA's staff is expected. Planning events and the logistics of those events require the staff to know whether or not you are attending an Assembly Meeting, an Executive Board teleconference, social function, an external committee meeting or internal committee meeting.

6. You are expected to prepare a verbal report for the Assembly Meetings. The verbal report summarizes what meetings you attended, or will be attending, and any issues regarding your representation of the general members of the Association.
7. Communicate any issues or problems from your colleagues to the appropriate PARA staff member.
