

RESIDENT PHYSICIAN OF THE MONTH

JUNE 2024

Dr. Gurjeet Bhangu

Internal Medicine
University of Calgary

I was born and raised in Vancouver, where I spent the majority of my elementary and high school years playing soccer and exploring provincial parks. After completing my bachelor's degree in Kinesiology and Health Sciences, I pursued medical school at the University of British Columbia. I was drawn to the diagnostic challenges and interdisciplinary nature of Internal Medicine, leading me to spend the last three years in Calgary completing my residency. Receiving this award during my final month in Calgary is a privilege, as I prepare to return to Vancouver to embark on my fellowship in Hematology.

Beyond my professional pursuits, I enjoy exploring new restaurants and traveling to diverse destinations with my fiancé. Our upcoming journey to Italy promises a variety of culinary options, with my personal goal set ambitiously at gaining five -10 pounds within just two weeks! Despite my love for food, I am committed to maintaining an active lifestyle to offset the calories and sedentary nature of Internal Medicine rounds. Thanks for the nomination, my time in Calgary has been truly fulfilling, marked by invaluable friendships and mentorships.

A colleague had this to say about Dr. Bhangu

Dr. Gurjeet Bhangu has worked to nominate many of our peers in resident shout out page for our IM UofC program and also ran the co-resident as mentor aka CRAM program. He is always looking out for others in our program and making our day with the shout outs! He exemplifies a balanced lifestyle and promotes wellness in our program with intramural program. I think he is very deserving as resident physician of the month!
